

Gena Lawrence is a research biologist at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, focusing on insect vectors of parasitic diseases. She moved to Atlanta in 1998 to pursue her Master of Public Health at Emory's Rollins School of Public Health and began her career at CDC in 2001. Gena has lived at her current residence in North Briarcliff since 2004. Both of her sons have attended Hawthorne Elementary School and Gena currently serves as the treasurer on the board of the Hawthorne Elementary School Foundation. She is also a member of the Briarmoor Manor Pool where both of her sons compete for the Sharks swim team.